REPUBLICANS MAY VOTE IN PRIMARY

All Pledged to Support Nominees of Democratic Party Permitted to Enter.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greene, Va., August 9.—A meeting of the Democratic County Committee was held at Nottoway yesterday, and the question of whether Republicans who pledged themselves to support the nominees of the Democratic ticket should be allowed to vote was the occasion of much discussion. The committee was largely divided, but it was finally carried that they should be allowed to vote.

This seems to be the first time in Virginia that the Democratic committee has undertaken by party action to let Republicans participate in their party councils. The vote of the committee was as follows:

For allowing the Republicans to vote in the primary—R. S. Beville, W. H. Jeffers, James Dixon, W. P. Dixon, Sr., W. W. Corrane, T. W. Robertson, of Jefferson State precinct; J. R. Elliott, Burkeville; A. C. Beville, J. J. Clay (by A. C. Beville, proxy); F. L. Tingley (by A. C. Beville, proxy); Spaulville; E. M. Jones, J. H. Vaughan, H. B. Epps, of Nottoway precinct; D. L. Perkins, W. I. Jones, S. G. Williams (by W. I. Jones, proxy); Dr. C. C. Tucker (by proxy).

Against allowing the Republicans to vote in the Democratic primary—R. W. Tuggle, Joan E. Tuggle, of Nottoway county; E. M. Williams, H. Watson, A. L. Woody, of Greene, S. D. Overton, Dan Schweitzer, Dr. J. H. Young, H. E. Boswell, of Burkeville; A. J. Coleman (by H. H. Watson, proxy); of Spaulville; Samuel Hurt, of Blaine.

The vote stood 12 to 12 in favor of the Republicans.

After this vote, W. H. Jeffers offered a typewritten list of judges and clerks for the primary at Greene, as county.

Four members out of the five committees at Greene precinct asked the privilege of nominating judges and clerks for all of the precincts in the has been the custom heretofore. This request was voted down.

Simple Home Remedy For Wrinkled Faces

(From Fashion Monthly.)

Thousands of women are spending fortunes in their frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. When in this state of mind a woman will spend almost any amount of money on worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If these women only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered saxolite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed, and the face has a snug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

BAPTIST UNIONS EVOKE ARGUMENT

Pastor Thinks They Are Often Unnecessary in Smaller Churches.

ELECT OFFICERS TO-DAY

Middle District Association Will Meet Next Year in Powhatan County.

Mount Moriah Church, Powhatan county, will be the meeting place next year of the Middle District Baptist Association, and Rev. W. H. Lawson will preach the introductory sermon. This was decided yesterday at the meeting of the association, which has been in session the past two days at the Weatherford Memorial Church, South Richmond.

The final session takes place this morning. It will be devoted to the final consideration of several important church activities, and to the election of officers for the coming year. The choosing of the officers at the close of the convention is a departure from the practice that has obtained up to this year, the officers having always been elected at the beginning of the annual sessions. The change was decided at the present meeting. The officers to be elected this morning are: Moderator, Clerk, treasurer and the executive board.

Speaks His Mind.

"The Training of Our Young People" was the subject announced by Moderator Davidson at the opening of the session last night. It furnished Pastor W. C. Scales, of the Weatherford Memorial Church, with the opportunity of scoring what he considers a reprehensible tendency in the smaller churches—the unnecessary domination of the young people of the Union. He said that the activity would be far more useful if quoted Wagner's dictum that no organization even rises higher than its leading spirit and denounced Baptist Young People's Unions when without efficient leadership. Without a good dominating personality to guide these organizations, he said, they became a force for indifference instead of good.

The pastor, in his opinion, holds the key to the situation. No one has as good an opportunity as he to guide the young people of his church, and to lead them to a life in Christ. Through the medium of the Sunday school and mid-week meetings, he has frequent opportunity to work good. With the efficient Baptist Young People's Unions he has no quarrel—they are a great force for good, he said; but too many of these young people's organizations seem to aim at turning out good public speakers instead of servants of the Lord.

Dr. A. Bagby, who spoke on the same subject, thought that too much stress is laid on the importance of church organizations in forming the characters of the young. The task belongs properly to the home, and no amount of present day sophistry, in his opinion, will ever be able to shift the responsibility to other shoulders.

An unwillingness to leave the subject of the Baptist Young People's Union in the somewhat compromised position in which it was left by the first speaker, prompted W. B. Miller to its defense. While he admitted that it was not always possible to attain the ideal organization, he held that even a moderately successful Baptist Young People's Union in a church, was far better than none at all. He expressed himself as unable to understand how it would be easier to effect the evangelization of the young by the means suggested by the first speaker. The Baptist Young People's Union, he thought, was sure to do good wherever organized.

Reports were heard on the subject of the church and executive board, and addresses were delivered bearing on this phase of church work. Dr. Weston Bruner, formerly of Cavalry Church, this city, and now superintendent of the evangelistic work of the Home Mission Board, spoke on the work in the city of Baltimore and in the Far West.

He laid special emphasis on the evangelistic department of the work. The other address on the subject was delivered by Powhatan James.

Following are the names of the speakers and the subjects discussed at the morning and afternoon sessions:

Wednesday, 10 A. M.
"Mission Work in Porto Rico," Dr. A. B. Rudd.

"Temperance," David Hepburn. Reports were heard on the state of the church and executive board, and were discussed by J. H. Hobson, Dr. J. R. Bagby, J. W. Reynolds and William Ellyson.

Reports on State Missions were discussed by W. H. Lawson, William Ellyson, George H. Swann and Dr. James Nelson, of Richmond Woman's College.

Wednesday, 2 P. M.
"The Laymen's Movement," R. A. Gary.

Reports on Foreign Missions: Discussed by Dr. R. J. Williamson and Dr. W. B. Smith.

In addition to the business of electing officers for the ensuing year, the association will this morning consider orphanages, the state of the churches, woman's work and miscellaneous business. Immediately upon conclusion of this program the body will adjourn for the year.
